AND if you don't succeed in making a better mouse-trap, it may be the wolf that will make a beaten path to your door.

Dr. Finegan of the Eastman Teaching Films declares that George Washington never cut down a cherry tree in his life. Glad to hear it because it dispels the suspicion that he cut down the tree and then went and lied about it.

Edison died without inventing some contrivance which would prevent book agents going from door to door to sell his life dearly.

The result of the late war can hardly be advanced as an argument in favor of swollen armaments, for the only country that had reached the peak of preparedness was vanquished by countries that ever lagged in war. Every nation requires a protective force just as every city and town must have its police, but the nation that goes madly into militarism is certain to rush, or be rushed, madly into war. The boxer or wrestler who spends time and money training into the pink of condition does not do it that he may defend himself in the event of his being attacked. He and his backers would be woefully disappointed if they did not manage to stage a fight while he was at his best.

A woman writes that her 1931 license plate is just as good as new and demands that she be allowed to use it this year. We have a 1931 tax receipt in almost perfect condition, too.

Gandhi is so set in his ways about dress that he won't change, but he expected King George and the Pope to waive their rules in his case. He got away with it at Buckingham Palace but not at the Vatican, and the little Indian lawyer has a half notion to join the K.K.K. if the Klans men will give up the hood and shroud and adopt the shawl and loin cloth.

In working out a cross-word puzzle we discovered that the word signifying a premium on foreign exchange is "agio." We had heard it called other names, but never that.

If you are not satisfied with the Lenz or Culbertson systems of playing bridge you can go back to Work.

An anonymous correspondent finds fault with several references in this column to the Mahatma, but it is nothing to what he (or she) would say if we went about dressed as Gandhi was in London.

On the other hand, no reasonable man can expect salaries always to go up when times are good and remain stationary when times are bad.

Pioneer of West Passes to Beyond

Following an illness of four months Ellen Kennedy, aged 81 years, wife of J. C. Kennedy of Vulcan, passed away on Thursday, December 31, at her home here.

Born at Bristol, Quebec, deceased was married to J. C. Kennedy in 1870 Four years later they moved to Winnipeg by ox cart, and were among the early settlers. In 1877 they removed to the States, returning to Canada, to the Barons district, in 1917. Since then they have spent eight years at the Pas, Man., and have resided with their son, A. J. at Vulcan for the past two years.

The deceased lady has always been a strong church worker, having taken an active part in the work of the Presbyterian church in the earlier days.

Besides her husband she leaves one son, mentioned above.

Services conducted by Rev. J. N. Brunton were held in the United Church here on Saturday afternoon last at two o'clock. Many lovely floral tokens evidencing rebard and sympathy were sent to the funeral. Interment took place in Vulcan cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Messrs. Ross Clark, Andrew Larson, Wood Irving, Geo. Galbraith, Webb Bride, Dave Howse.

The Snodgrass funeral home had charge of the arrangements.

Blackie Pucksters Win From Vulcan

A very exciting and interesting hockey game was played between the juveniles of Vulcan and Blackie on January 4th at Blackie. The play was fast and furious and kept a good turnout of fans on their toes through out the whole game. The game was exceptionally clean and very few penalties were served.

In the first period Wooldridge scored for Blackie by tricking the defense and then scoring on his own rebound. From then on Vulcan pressed hard and were finally rewarded in the second period, when B. Marshall beat Stier with a hot shot from the blue line. This evened matters and the puck was carried from one end of the ice to the other like lightning. Then early in the third period, Wooldridge beat Robson to put Blackie ahead. Then B. Gibson, on a pass from D. Malmberg shot a hard one into the corner of the net. Not satisfied with a two goal lead, Woold ridge again tallied for the final counter. Vulcan worked hard and peppered Stier with many hard shots, but he was invincible to the final gong. For Vulcan, B. Marshall and Robson were the pick, and for Blackie. Wooldridge and Stier starred.

Any future games between these two teams should be worth watching.

Line-up—Vulcan: Robson; Schenk, Jamieson; A. Marshall, B. Marshall, Woodward; Pritchard, Collier, King, Ottewell.

Blackie—Stier, Hart, Anderson; Wooldridge, D. Malmberg, B. Gibson, A. Malmberg, Barry, L. Gibson.

S. G. Stuckey Writes From Peace River

The following letter from Mr. S.G. Stuckey who recently left Vulcan for the Peace River district, will be read with interest by his many friends here. Mr. Stuckey writes from Groundbirch, B.C.:

It might be interesting to you to know what kind of weather we are enjoying here. We have about eight inches of snow, but the weather is very mild, averaging above the freezing mark.

On our way up we had the good fortune to meet some of Vulcan's old time residents at High Prairie. We spent a couple of weeks as neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. E. Beetlestone. On this occasion we were waiting until the ice on the river was safe to cross. At Grand Prairie we met Mrs. Dunbar and her daughter, Mrs. Kuykendall. Then at Hythe we spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. H. Thompson, who I might say, sure is a booster for his part of the country. They made many enquiries of their friends at Vulcan. Then of course we have since coming to our journey's end, spent several visits with Mr. and Mrs. Packwood at Dawson Creek who thinks that Peace River Block is the only country. Mrs. Packwood has a very nice millinery store here besides running quite an extensive library.

Well, Vulcanites, I must be going as the cook says, the moose steak is about to be served, so cherrio!

Notice Re Hospital Tickets

Important regulations with regard to the purchase of hospital tickets were passed by the Vulcan Municipal Hospital Board at its regular meeting month. The new regulations provide for hospitalization to non-ratepayers and ratepayers within towns and hamlets on the same basis as ratepayers on purchase of a hospital ticket. The price of tickets has been lowered this year to $6.00. This price applies to all resident non-ratepayers, and to ratepayers who pay taxes on property in Vulcan or other property than farm lands are required to pay the difference between the actual hospital taxes on their properties and $6.00. Heretofore the Hospital Board has accepted applications for tickets throughout the year with certain provisions.

Tickets for the year 1932 will only be sold during the month of January and up to February 15th. No tickets will be sold after that date except to those who become resident later in the year. The Board urges everyone who desires to become a hospital supporter to purchase their tickets during the specified time.

Hospital supporters are given hospital attention for one dollar per day with the free use of operation room and other equipment. The rate for non-supporters is $4.00 per day with extra charges for operation room, etc.

NEW WORLD POWER

When things are going none too happily with an individual, it is a wonderful stimulant for him to hear some pleasant comment or some word of encouragement.

For this reason an article in the November World's Work on "Canada—and the New World Power," makes pleasant reading, regardless of whether or not it may actually come true. It points a bright picture for the future.

"Canada has been for many years an important primary producer, but her recent tremendous increase in manufactures has taken her from the obscurity of 1914 to fifth place in '28 amongst manufacturing nations.

"Her phenomenal economic development may be traced to four basic causes; her vast natural resources, the sturdy pioneer spirit of her people, the tremendous technological progress of recent years and the protective tariff policy practiced by both political parties.

"Canada's natural resources fall into five major categories; fisheries, mines, forests, water power and farm land. Available American lumber has been dwindling and the growing demand for wood pulp and newsprint should bring forestry to the forefront of Dominion industry. Her enormous potential production of hydro-electric energy is important and is attracting to the Dominion certain industries such as the Aluminum Corporation using great amounts of cheap power.

"The sturdy pioneer spirit of Canadian people has been shown in the opening of the west and north country and a gallant post war struggle. The careful restriction of immigration can be counted on to preserve Nordic character.

"Technological progress, needs only one example in the Northern exploration by airplane, and again the perfection of the sulphite method of producing wood pulp.

The fourth factor is the principle of a tariff which fosters industry at the expense of agriculture and which seem to have justified the methods. It is true the tariffs seem to have placed a heavy burden on the the already insolvent farmer. But the Advisory Tariff of '26 aided in fixing duties as low as possible to protect the home manufacturer, was one boon to agricultural groups.

"Canada has been quick to grasp the loop hole in American tariff, allowing Americans to bring in $100 worth of goods duty free. This has reaped a nice little profit for Canadian middlemen in their sale of woollen and linen goods to American tourists and others.

"There appears a striking similarity in the situation of the British Empire in 1870, the United States in 1910 and the Canada of 1930. The Franco Prussian war of 1870. in which England was a non combatant established the British Empire as the great creditor nation of the world. The World War dragged down England, and established United States as the world's great creditor. Stranger things may happen in the future, than that Canada should be shifted to a minor pinnacle. She has sufficient natural wealth to make the prospect possible. Who can say, but what in some not remote readjustment, Canada with her vast natural resources, may not emerge as one of the great natiens of the world?

GREAT MEN PASSING

The past week has seen the passing of two great men, standing for the finest ideals of the Anglo-Saxon people. These are Sir George Foster of Canada and C. F. Scott, editor of the Manchester Guardian, England. Each in his own way has left a rich heritage of character and accomplishment to the British and Canadian people.

Sir George Foster, though entering a long political life as a staunch Conservative, many years ago, outgrew party animosities for national service. Within the last few years he has been regarded as the Grand Old Man of Canada, representing his country at important foreign conferences, regardless of the existing government.

He has grown in wisdom and stature with the years. leaving behind him a memory of dignity, power and integrity. It is said that his last speech in the Senate, made this spring, was one of the most masterly efforts of his career. The passion of his later years has been the League of Nations. He was present at the Versailles Conference, and has repeatedly represented Canada at Geneva on later occasions. On more than one occasion at Geneva his lucid, ringing phrases have swayed the skeptical, sophisticated statesmen of other lands and extracted victory from critical situations. His personality at the Conferences was the finest recommendation that Canada could bring to other nations.

Entering political life in 1882, he has figured almost continually in every phase of Canadian national development. He filled many cabinet positions until 1921 when he entered the Senate.

C. F. Scott of the Manchester Guardian, influenced the British public, not from the platform but through the medium of his journalism. Fifty-seven years ago he took over the Manchester Guardian, then a little provincial paper and breathing his idealism and love of humanity into its pages, he created one of the great editorial powers of England.

A tribute to his worth is from a contemporary: "By the death of Scott we lose the most distinguished figure in British journalism of modern times." His life was devoted to the cause of humanity, and though not with the popular appeal of Lord Northcliffe or Beaverbrook, he wielded tremendous influence.

It is sad that these octegenarians should have had to close their eyes upon a discouraged world before the ideals for which they fought had been realized. But they have left an indelible imprint on the national life of their respective countries.

ONE DOLLAR

On a Dominion dollar note there is this inscription:

"The Dominion of Canada will pay to the bearer on demand, one dollar."

The one dollar is in gold.

On a one dollar note of the United States of America, there is this is this inscription:

"This certifies that there has been deposited in the treasury of the United States of America one silver dollar. payable to the bearer on demand."

One silver dollar. And the value of the silver in a silver dollar is exactly 28 cents. Yet the American dollar, with 28 cents worth of silver in it, is worth 20 cents more than the Canadian dollar, backed by gold. What can the average man make of that?

THE OLD GUIDE'S CHRISTMAS

HIS cabin lies 'neath the wintry skies
At the egde of the ghostly wood,
Where only the word of the wild is heard
In the vast, white solitude.

The firelight gleams, and the old guide dreams
As the night-winds sob and sigh,
And he lives once more in the days of yore,
The years that have passed him by.

Once more he meets and in fancy greets
Old comrades of the trail;
The men who dared, and the men who shared
In the North's heroic tale.

For this hallowed day has a magic way
Of recalling the past at will,
And the old guide clings to the distant things
Like an old pine to the hill.

He knows the trails and the river ways
To the rim of the frozen sea;
And the nameless lakes where the grey-trout breaks
Like a vision of ectasy.

Where the lean wolf howls and the black fox prowls
And the wild swan builds her nest,
He has followed far with the bright north star
As a guide to his careless quest.

So New Years comes to the old guide's shack
And it finds him well content;
He counts the years with their joys and tears
And he deems each one well spent.

For his quest is the quest of a pilgrim blessed
Who seeks on the trails untrod,
In the silence that fills the slumbering hills
Companionship with God!

LOOKING TO GOVERNMENTS

With the coming of the New Year, the Premiers of the three praiire provinces have stepped into action, and have met at Edmonton to discuss financial and other matters confronting their Legislatures in the coming session. The problems of the three provinces are very similar and there will be an effort to unify to as great an extent as possible the methods of raising revenue, imposing taxation and bringing about necessary reductions in operation.

Although there seem to be few new avenues of taxation, or at least few that would bring results, the return in motor license fees to the prices prevailing in years previous to 1931, will bring in a little extra cash. There is discussion also of an increased gasoline tax, a possibility of a system of provincial income tax and looming over the whole country is the perpetual problem of unemployment relief, which is a constant drain.

The meeting of the Premiers was not intended as anything more than an exchange of ideas regarding common problems.

A pre-sessional caucus of U.F.A. members has also taken place in Edmonton and it is reported that a decision was reached to cut sessional indemnities 10 per cent. This has not been officially announced, but it is no more than the taxpeyers should expect. As a matter of fact, it is by no means a drastic cut. There will have to be many other economies on a much larger scale, before the revenue can be spread over all necessities. The merging of the A.P.P. and the R.C.M.P. should effect an economy in the policing of the province.

The United Farmer convention which meets later in the month, can also be depended on to produce many resolutions bearing upon the financial situation of the province, and economy steps which may be taken. The U.F.A. should have considerable influence with the present Legislature, and out of the masses of resolutions presented annually, some very practical and useful suggetions may be garnered.

SERIOUS MATTER

An Eastern town in commenting on municipal matters, brings out one phase of municipal nominations, which though probably not having existed locally, is worth a thought. It is pointed out that often on nomination day, ratepayers gather, and carrying on in a spirit of levity, begin to nominate each other as a joke. Then when everything shakes down, it is found that someone entirely unsuited to the duties of the position has been nominated and possibly elected.

Everyone is familiar with this type of joke. A municipal nomination is not regarded very seriously as a rule, and particularly in good times when men are in a genial get-together humor, they are easily disposed toward loading the duties of government on somebody "just for a joke."

However, the responsibilities of municipal government are quite as serious in their way, as those of any higher governments. On the judgment and wisdom of councillors hangs the welfare of their district, and ratepayers have often paid dearly for the jokes of nomination day.

In hard times, there is little spirit of levity in any matter which means dollars to the people, and there is no doubt that nominations will be taken this year with quite commendable seriousness.

Nomination day is not far distant, for most municipal districts and it will repay every voter to give considerable time to picking out the best, most level headed type of man in the district—and then persuading him to run as a candidate for office. Selecting suitable municipal candidates is far from a joking matter.

SCHOOL OBJECTIVES

The greatest aids to success and happiness are: (1) a sound and vigorous body; (2) ability to think clearly; (3) ability to speak and write one's own language clearly and forcibly; (4) character.

Book learning can be acquired at any age, but the body and faculties can be trained only in childhood and youth. Thorough physical training should be obligatory, and its main purpose should be to develop a sound and vigorous body. It should include gymnasium and all kinds of sport, particularly sports that can be kept up in later life.

Students should also be required to pursue certain cultural studies such as English literature and history. The principal objective should always be to train the students to think straight and to express themselves in good English. All the teachers therefore, should be selected with special reference to their clarity o f mind and their mastery of the English language.

Ability to speak and write one's own language clearly and forcibly and to speak with good voice and clear enunciation is the greatest power and the greatest charm that can be acquired. The students should be taught to debate and to speak before an audience.

Training in accurate thinking cannot be acquired merely by learning lessons and passing examinations. It can be acquired only by free discussion with competent teachers.

A democracy can exist without the millions of graduates that are commonly turned out by high schools and other secondary schools, but it cannot endure without well informed leaders of ability and character whom the voters are willing to follow.—Atlantic Monthly.

MOTOR LICENSES GET A BOOST

Up $5.00 Over Last Year, Which Brings Them to Price Prevailing in Previous Years

Automobile licenses in Alberta go back for 1932 to their former price, an advance of $5.00 over last year's rate. Premier Brownlee made this announcement Monday, and all necessary provisions for the distribution of forms and plates having been previously arranged, the issue of new licenses will now proceed throughout the province.

A similar increase to that now being made in Alberta has already been announced in Saskatchewan, while in British Columbia, it is pointed out, the license fees are considerably higher than those in this province, even with the 1932 increase.

Premier Brownlee said that other possible methods of providing more revenue from the motor traffic have been considered but have not been found prafticable.

"The government realizes," he says, "that there is a widespread feeling that an increase in the gasoline tax would be a more equitable method of increasing revenue from motor vehicles, but this source of revenue has been very greatly reduced, largely because of the manufacture and sale of various types of distillate presumably for tractor purposes, but which are undoubtedly being very largely used by trucks and motor vehicles throughout the province.

"This has been the subject of considerable study, but extensive amendments to the Gasoline Tax Act will probably be necessary to meet this situation."

PEOPLE HOLD TO PARTY HABIT

Speaking for Ontario There are Indications of Independence Says Star

Bertrand Russell says the people vote for one party or the other more from habit than anything else. He cites his own case:

"I myself, in England, vote for the Labor party because my father was a Radical; my father was a Radical because his father was a Liberal; my grandfather was a Liberal because his father was a Wrig; and he was a Whig because his ancestors obtained abbey land from Henry VIII. Having derived my radicalism from such a mercenary source, shall I turn Conservative? The very idea appals me."

No doubt if people in large numbers formed the habit of voting for the best man regardless of party they would soon compel both parties to nominate better men, the best men available. One difficulty, however, would be encountered. Intelligent and honest electors would often be unable to agree as to which of two candidates was the better. Many voters would object to both candidates, regarding neither as a proper man to send to parliament, but, as a rule, they bring themselves into line by saying they are voting not for the man but the party. While electors have the party habit deep within them they are unlikely to consider the candidate of the party to which they are opposed a good enough man to win them over, for they read in party sources things about him which suggest that he is not as good as he ought to be.

Election campaigns are long enough drawn out to serve the purpose of bringing the independents back into line before polling day arrives. Yet it is undeniable that never before has there been as large a percentage of party free electors as there are in Ontario at present.—Toronto Star.

TAXES INSURANCE LAWS AND PERMITS

No More Joy in Life Says Writer Because Life is Just One Tax After the Other

An average citizen, writing to the Sherbrooke Record, Quebec, pays up his three dollar subscription saying: "I have managed to scrape this up at great loss to my other creditors." He goes on to tell why he is in very bad financial and mental shape. He is only one of millions. Let him tell it:

"My present financial condition is due to the effects of Dominion Laws, Provincial Laws, Corporation Laws, Liquor Laws, Traffic Laws, By-Laws Brother-in-Laws. Sister in-laws, Mother-in-Laws, and Out-Laws, all of which have been foisted upon an unsuspecting public.

"Through all these laws I am compelled to pay a Business Tax, Sales Tax, Amusement Tax, Gas Tax, School Tax, Water Tax and Syntax.

"In addition to these irritating taxes, I am forced by the strong arm of the law to get a permit for this thing and a permit for that thing. I am required to get a Business License, a City License, a Provincial License, a Liquor License, not to mention a Marriage License.

"I am also requested and required to contribute to every society and organization which the inventive mind of man is capable of bringing into life; to the Society of St. Jean Baptiste. the Women's Relief, the Near East Relief, the Unemployed Relief and the Gold Diggers' Home, also every hospital and charitable institution in the city, the Red Cross, the Black Cross, the White Cross, the Green Cross, the Purple Cross, the Flaming Cross and the Double Cross.

"For my own safety I am required to carry Life Insurance, Liability Insurance, Burglary Insurance, Propertry Insurance, Rent Insurance, Fire Insurance, Compensation Insurance. Accident Insurance, Collision Insurance, Rain Insurance and Business Insurance.

"The Government has now so governed my business that it is no easy matter for me to find out who owns it. I am expected, introspected, suspected, disrespected,examined, re-examined, informed, required, summoned, fined, commanded and compelled until all I know is that I am supposed to provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race. and simply because I refuse to donate to each and all and go out and beg, borrow or steal money to give away, I am cussed, discussed, boycotted talked to, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, held down and robbed until am nearly ruined.

"I can tell you honestly, Mr. Man, that failing a miracle, you won't be paid just now, and the only reason I am holding on to life is simply curiosity to see what is coming next—in the Record.

"Yours respectfully. I will be, until I owe you more next year."

"O. N. U. MORE."

BROOMHALL SEES RISE IN PRICES

Grain Authority Expects Increase in Trading, With Hopes of Pick Up In Price

Broomall expects a larger volume of wheat in trading and some increase in prices early in 1932. Foreign purchases have been abnormally small and rains in the Argentine may curtail the wheat movement from the south and are causing concern in European buying quarters. If this movement slows up in January, it will mean a turn to North American wheat. Shipments to date are almost equal to those of last year. The Canadian surplus is smaller than a year ago, and with the bulk of the crop now out of the farmer's hands there should be a continuing decrease in Canadian holdings.

The world's wheat crop is estimated at 100 million bushels less than the previous season's total. This makes no allowance for poor quality of yield in many European countries and a shortage in the rye crop.

A slice of bread more a day per person amounts to a great deal when taking a whole country into consideration. In Canada alone it would mean an increase of 250,000, 4 lb. loaves a day.

There is gossip in Toronto to the effect that Denton Massey, whose Bible Class service attracted 20,000 person on Sunday afternoon may devote his energy to political matters in the not disantt future.

PLANNING FOR 1932

Failure records for 1931 show that a high percentage of casualties in the manufacturing and distributing group resulted primarily from a lack of directed effort and a proneness to sit back and wait for business to improve instead of doing something about it.—Bradstreet.

Ski Runners of the Canadian Rockies

With a field of activity unequalled the world over the new winter sports association the Ski Runners of the Canadian Rockies, is rapidly coming into prominence among skiers and winter sports enthusiasts generally. The new organization is patterned largely after the famous Trail Riders and its locale, unequalled for scenery and facilities on this continent and probably without a rival even in Europe, is Banff, in the heart of the Rockies, with runs and trails varying from one to ten days in duration and covering such world-known objectives as Mount Assiniboine, Simpson Pass, Shadow Lake, Lake Louise, Ptarmigan Valley and Pass, Bow Lakes and Pipestone Pass. Ski-ing over some of these passes is in full swing as late as June when visitors are enjoying golf and tennis, fishing and hiking, in the valleys below. But the sport begins in November each year.

A thousand feet above Banff and about an hour out from the town is the ski lodge built on the pass between Mounts Norquay and Stoney Squaw. From the club house runs radiate in all directions with cabins and shelters at strategic points for rest and refreshment. There is a 50-metre Jump at Buffalo Park and every year in February (this year February 7-14) a tournament is held where the pick of Canadian and outside jumpers compete.

Lay-out shows (1) Ski track across virgin snow with Mt. Assiniboine, 11,800 feet high, in background: (2) Canadian Pacific Bungalow Camp at Magog headquarters for ski-ing at Mt. Assiniboine: (3) Mount Norquay Ski Lodge, 1000 feet above Banff, overlooking the Bow River, with dog team in foreground and (4) The Towers, on Wonder Pass, near Mt. Assiniboine, one of the finest winter scenes in the Rockies.

VALLEY ENDS 1931 WITH BIG GASSER

Sterling Pacific Brings in One of Biggest Surprises of History

Proving the potentialities of the southern most end of Turner Valley, the Sterling Pacific No. 2 well came into production early Monday morning with one of the biggest gassers in the history of the Valley. This well is located more than four miles south of the Home wells. The Sterling Pacific Co. is a Vancouver concern and the well is being drilled by the Imperial Oil Co. Production figures are not yet available but 20 million cubic feet was struck at a depth of 5748 feet, after 286 feet of limestone had been penetrated.

In the opinion of oilmen the strike means that Turner Valley has still Valley structure extends farther south than has so far been indicated. unestimated gas reserve and that the They contend that it proves that the Valley has a great wet gas area, almost untapped and that there is justification for extending gas facilities to far points.

The bringing in of this well means the finish temporarily of the Imperial Oil Company's drilling program in the Valley. It has been legislated that no new well be drilled into the limestone, which is the likely field for satisfactory production. It is unlikely therefore that any further drilling will be undertaken until the conservation orders are cancelled or modified.

U F O GROUP DISAPPEARS

Ontario Paper Gloomily Anticipates That They May Bob Up Again

The United Farmers of Ontario, of the remnants of that once considerable group of malcontents, have decided to merge with the Liberal party in the Ontario legislature which is its natural fold, all the former Conservatives who at one time and another held seats in the legislature having either been defeated or retired and returned to the Conservative party ranks. The wonder is that the United Farmers preserved their identity as long as they have done. The fate of their administration concluded a period in provincial government that was marked by gross incompetency and worse. The present generation of farmers will not be likely to attempt another class movement but it is not possible to forsee what may happen in the future. The failure of the Patrons of Industry did not prevent the United Farmers from duplicating that failure.—Alliston Herald.

Strong Position of the Royal Bank

Total Assets Over 825 Millions—Liquid Assets Stand at $348.630,000

The maintenance of its usual strong position and ready ability to meet the rapidly changing trade conditions are among the outstanding features of the annual report of The Royal Bank of Canada. The statement, which for the fiscal year to November 30th, is now going forward to shareholders. It will be immediately accepted as further striking proof of the successful manner in which Canadian banks are dealing with the problems brought about by depressed business conditions.

The general statement of assets and liabilities show total assets in excess of $825,000,000, a reduction of only about 7 per cent. as compared with the amount reported at the end of the previous year. In the light of lower commodity prices and general slackening of activity, the maintenance of total assets at such a high level should be regarded as a remarkably good showing. In keeping with its policy the Bank's liquid position, as usual, is a strong one, liquid assets totalling $248,630,551, or over 48 per cent of liabilities to the public. The principal accounts included among them are cash items of $150,286,891; Dominion and Provincial Government securities of $85,473,058 and Canadian Municipal and British foreign and Colonial public securities of $24-641,816. Call Loans total $76,293,380 and naturally represent a substantial reduction for the year, those in Canada being down $18,847,955, or 33 per cent. and those abroad over $7,000,000.

The generally lessened business activity is further reflected in commercial loans, which are $419,345,043 as compared with $444,815,877 a year ago. Letters of Credit also show a reduction—nearly $10,000,000—obviously due to curtailed international trade.

Total deposits stand at $647,303,075 as against $695,589,060 at the end of the 1930 year. The decline, as is well known, has been principally in deposits elsewhere than in Canada, those in the Dominion being down only $7,160,200, and now amount to $479,165,064, as against $486,325,264.

Satisfactory Profits

The many shareholders of the Bank will be particularly interested in the Profit and Loss account and the showing made should be regarded as very satisfactory. Profits for the year amounted to $5,448,327, and these added to the amount brought forward from the preceding year brought the total available for distribution up to $9,555,105. Payment of the usual 12 per cent. dividend absorbed $4,200,000; a contribution of $200,000 was made to Officers' Pension Fund; the usual amount of $400-000 was appropriated for Bank premises and $600,000 was set aside for Dominion Government taxes. After meeting all these charges the substantial amount of $4,155,105 was carried forward to credit of Profit and Loss into the next fiscal year.

INTERESTING NEWS

Hugh F. MacKenzie tells this story showing that Grits know how to place a delicate compliment, when opportunity rises. It seems that up north they raise very fine pigs, that are much sought after. One particularly good batch was brought to maturity and was in demand by agricultural experts. These choice products had to be named, and the title "King" naturally presented itself. There was Silver King and Fedora King and Kimona King and so on. The prize gentleman of the lot was selected to be sent to the Ottawa Agricultal Dept. The neighbors went into a huddle to choose a suitable name for him. and one good Grit, searching his soul for the best he knew, had the brilliant thought "MacKenzie King." And under that worthy name, the champion hog has been despatche to the Ottawa department.

VULCAN THEATRE CHANGES POLICY

Commencing next week local theatre goers will have the opportunity of seeing all the latest talking pictures at the popular price of twenty-five cents any time, no tax.

The management has decided to adopt this policy for the month of January, and if successful, it will be continued indefinitely.

In addition to the leading pictures, the Fox News (Magic carpet of Movietone) will again appear on the screen each week (news while it is news). The Series of Adventures in Africa have also been booked together with the best comedies and novelties, leaving nothing to want on the screen at the Vulcan Theatre.

Entertainment of this calibre cannot be presented unless given good attendance, but the manager feels that, with the pictures mentioned and good sound, plus new low admission price, the people of Vulcan will continue to have the opportunity of seeing the finest in screen entertainment

The government of Quebec has raised the gasoline tax to six cents a gallon. and it is hinted that Ontario may follow suit. This is an easily collected and rapidly mounting revenue. ARE M L A'S IN LINE FOR SALARY CUT

Eastern Journal Light Heartedly Suggests That Western Indemnities Be Cut Half

Suggestion that the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta should be consolidated for the sake of economy in government and administration has recently re-appeared in Western Canada. As an indication that ideas of economy are getting abroad it is interesting, but otherwise it is not useful at the moment. Even if practicable it would take a long time to work out, and in the meantime discussion of the proposal would divert attention from immediate reductions in expenditure that can be effected in each province. There is enough in that direction to be done to occupy the attention of the three provincial legislatures and their respective governments.

A useful beginning could be made by reducing temporarily the high indemnities that are paid to provincial members. They should be cut, not in proportion to such reductions as are made in the salaries of ministers and civil servants, but to a basis that represents a more reasonable payment for the time actually involved. Manitoba, for example, pays 55 legislators $2,000 a year each for attending a session two months or so in length. A reduction by one-half would take care of the interest requirements on $1,000,000 of the province's debt. Such a reduction should not result in a realization that government is not an institution that has an unlimited amount of money to spend, and have an indirect effect quite as important as the immediate result.—Financial Post.

FLOCKS UPON THE THOUSAND HILLS

Sheep Raising in Alberta the Nucleus of Great Possibilities

J. S. Jones has arranged for the Bank of Montreal magazine, an article on sheep raising in Alberta. It includes figures on the possibilities of sheep ranching, and also an entertaining description of the work involved in the successful raising of these domestic animals. He says:

"Canada's sheep have increased about 127,000 head per annum in the last five years, but this is not fast enough in view of the fact that $54,-428,616 worth of wool and wool products were imported in 1929, with exports of $3.256,693.

"Raising sheep on ranches is quite different from raising them on farms. A good range ewe can be bought for $6 to $8.00. The June clip should bring 60 to 90 cents, her lamb should fetch $4.00 in the autumn. A gross income of $4.60, with cost of upkeep $3.00 a year, so that the net income should be $1.60 or 20 per cent. These are fair profits but won only with eternal vigilance.

"A rancher with 10,000 head of ewes, would have 40,000 acres of leased grazing land on a watercourse. The sheep would be in six main groups. The ram band of 250 head, worth $10,000 would be many miles from the ranch, being fed and specially cared for till the last week in November. The ewes would be in five bands of about 2000 head, each band in a unit in charge of a herder who lives in a "sheep wagon."

"Each night the herder brings his sheep back near the wagon and he must be alert for any weather changes. In time of bad storms two men and dog are needed to keep the band on their feet, in close formation and moving with circular motion to keep the snow trodden down as it falls. This is called 'keeping them on top.'

"The sheep graze all winter, 'bucking,' or pawing the snow to get to the grass. Snow ploughs are used to break up crusted snow. Reserve feed at strategic points is used only in emergency.

"There are six periods when sheep raising requires unceasing attention: The lambing period from middle of April to May; the docking, the shearing in June. the 'dipping' a week later. Then comes the early autumn with weaning, marketing and reassorting of flocks. Then the winter again, which is always a battle.

"There is constant loss from accidents, prairie fires, wolves, coyotes and diseases, but this should not exceed 5 per cent. on a good ranch.

"It is on lambing time that much of the year's profit depends. An increase of 90 to 95 per cent. is good; 75 to 80 per cent. is fair; less than 75 per cent. is poor. On farms the increase is often 120 per cent. as many twins are born and are raised; farm ewes give ten pounds more wool per head and their usefulness extends up to ten years. But a range ewe has not the same personal care nor food and her usefulness is pretty well over at five years."

Here is a belated election story from Britain. A heckler having been worsted in argument, lost his temper: "I wouldn't vote for you if you were the Angel Gabriel," he declared. "My dear sir," replied the candidate "if I were the angel Gabriel. you wouldn't be in my constituency."

ZONATION MAP GIVES SOIL SURVEY

Indicates Alberta by Zones as to Soil Drifting, Rainfall, Suitability for Various crops

A soil survey map for the purpose of indicating to farmers the general advantages of certain crops in particular districts, was presented by a committee reporting to the annual meeting of the agricultural board of Alberta, held in Edmonton last week, according to Calgary officials who attended.

The map is actually a zonation farm practices map, and is entirely dependent on the result of soil analysis, rainfall and other climatic conditions, and has been experimented with for some time in the United States. C. S. Noble of Nobleford, who has been in the United States for the past few months, studying methods of soil drifting, gave an interesting talk to the gathering on the results obtained from maps of the description presented.

The chairman of the meeting, H. A. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture. pointed out that the map, in a general way, indicated the primary and secondary cereal and forage crops best suited to the various zones and followed largely in soil survey maps already prepared in Alberta.

A friend suggests as a means of saving money in fuel (and exchange) during the winter, that in towns and villages with two or three churches, they join together and use only one church, allotting time by agreement among the various denominations. It is a very good suggestions but it won't save any money because it won't be acted upon.

Kibitzers watching the Lenz-Culbertson contest irritated some of the players. There was once an Irishman standing behind a euchre player and not only watching the game closely but also making frequent comments of disapproval. "Who's playing this game anyway, you or I?" said the player angrily. "Neither of us." replied the Irish kibitzer.

Since the census returns were published, several places have expressed disappointment because the figures showed they had not increased in size. But what virtue has bulk? A big man does not withstand the rigors of struggle and the ravages of disease as well as the man of medium size does, and a survey of conditions during the past two years discloses that there is less unemployment and distress in small centres proportionately than there is in the larger places. Despite not the day of small things. There are little countries in this world far better off than any of the great nations, and there are small towns and villages in Canada with no unemployment, no distress, no bonded indebtedness, a low assessment and a low tax rate. Let swollen cities vaunt their progress if they will. There is no merit in corpulence.
